
Title: a journal

Author: Garamon

Today, I have hope again.
It has been too many days since my brother Tyball and I inadvertently released the Slasher of Veils in this world. How could we have known our research in planar travel would have such dire consequences?

But we have devised a plan. We completed the construction of a Chamber of Virtue.
Tonight, I will lure the Slasher of Veils inside it so its virtuous energies may weaken the beast.
Tyball will lock us in while I open a rip back to the Slasher's own plane and lead him through. A portal already awaits me in that foul place which will lead me back here to safety.

If all goes according to plan, we will have undone the wrong we brought onto Britannia. We will have redeemed ourselves.
May the Virtues give us strength...
